Campaign

EVERYBODY CONFIDENT

Leaders for McCumber, Frazier, Nestos, Stegner, Baker
All Seem Satisfied

Two hundred and thirty thousand men and women of North Dakota will go to the polls tomorrow. They will nominate party candidates for United States senator, congressman, for all state offices, for the legislature, supreme court and superintendent of public instruction, and will also nominate men for county offices.

The end of the campaign finds party managers, as always, confident of success. They find the average political observer more at sea than usual. The difficulty in arousing enthusiasm in the campaign, the absence of street-corner and grocery store discussion has taken from them many of the leads on which election predictions often are based.

In spite of the apparent lethargy on the part of the voters there has been a strong finish made in the campaign by all those participating. With the added interest in the county fight a full vote is expected to be cast. The vote of 220,000 in the recall election will be exceeded, it is predicted.

A Long Ballot

There are 90 candidates on the state ballot and more than a score on the county ballot. Polls will be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Because of the length of the ballot, the newspapers have a greater task than usual in compiling election returns. It is expected that in some precincts it will require two days to count the votes. The Tribune will co-operate as formerly with the Fargo Forum, Grand Forks Herald, Minot Daily News and Mandan Pioneer in compiling election returns, the expense of which is several thousands of dollars.

Interest outside of North Dakota centers in the senatorial primary and the fate of Senator McCumber, one of the acknowledged leaders in the United States senate. That Senator McCumber has made great gains within the last two weeks is generally conceded, and his managers believe he will be nominated by a majority of 15,000. Former Governor Franke and Ormsby McHarg are in the race against him. It is generally conceded that McCumber will poll only the votes of disgruntled politicians whose factional animus prevents them from voting for Senator McCumber.

Three For Governor

For governor, R. F. Nestos, B. F. Baker and H. L. Stegner are bidding for votes. Governor Nestos is completing his campaign in the northern part of the state and will spend election night at Minot. Mr. Baker probably will be at his home in Glenburn, and Mr. Stegner at his home in Bismarck. Independents feel that Governor Nestos is an easy winner and generally predict he will run far ahead of his rivals. Nonpartisans also declare their confidence. Mr. Stegner, returning from a trip through the Sioux country, declares that he and Mr. Stegner found a warm reception for their opposition to state socialism.

There are three candidates for secretary of state, three for attorney general and three for commissioner of agriculture and labor in the Republican primary. Both Miss Minnie Nielson and Mrs. Martha Fulton will be nominated for superintendent of public instruction, and one of them will be elected in the fall. There are 11 candidates for justice of the supreme court. Six are to be nominated in the primary and three elected in the fall.

Democrats Have Scrap

The Democrats are having a scrap for the first time in the last few years. There are two tickets in the field—the ticket named at Jamestown headed by J. F. T. O'Connor for senator, and the anti-fusion ticket headed by F. O. Hellstrom for senator and Dr. Platon for governor. It is estimated that from 30,000 to 35,000 Democratic votes will be cast, as compared to 8,000 cast for O'Connor two years ago in the primary, when women did not have the ballot.

The Hellstrom-Platon ticket is out-and-out anti-fusion. The O'Connor-Simon ticket is for fusion, and thousands of Democrats who believe in the fusion plan have been persuaded to change their registration to the Republican column. This, supporters of Hellstrom and Platon say, insures the nomination of the anti-fusion ticket.

Eleven Candidates for Sheriff. There is a lively interest in the legislative fight. All members of the lower house are to be elected this fall and a number of senators. Both Nonpartisans and Independents are

That Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, one of the most brilliant of Britain's soldiers, assassinated in the doorway of his London home, should be regarded as a victim of the political struggle in Ireland, is natural enough, considering his position as military adviser to Sir James Craig, premier of the Ulster government; in view of the Irishman's names of his two assassins, taken almost red-handed in the act of shooting him down, and by reason of the further fact that one of the pair is revealed by his papers as a member of the Irish Republican army, in arms against the forces of which Sir Henry was the head.

It is fair to say that the Dublin Republican leaders were thrown into consternation by news of the crime. General Owen Duffy, the Irish Republican chief of staff, instantly denied that the organization had any part in a murder plot. President Arthur Griffith of the Dail Eireann was equally emphatic.

Election Returns
To Be Displayed
At Tribune Corner

Election returns will be given by The Bismarck Tribune Wednesday evening as soon as they are available. A screen will be installed and the figures as promptly as they are received will be given to the people.

Patrons of The Tribune are requested not to telephone this office election night as the wires will be busy receiving election returns. Come to The Tribune corner that evening after 9 p. m.

The Tribune in cooperation with other state dailies will gather the returns and experts will be busy compiling the results from all sections of the state. In case of a close election it will be hard to determine the first evening, but enough doubtless will be compiled so that a reasonable forecast can be made.

Everyone is welcome to the public returns.

Wednesday evening at The Tribune corner at 9 p. m. is the time. It may be 9:30 before the small precincts start reporting.

TRAIL MEETING
TO BE AT FARGO

The annual North Dakota meetings of the National Parks Highway Association will be held Monday July 10, in the Commercial club rooms at Fargo, according to announcement of the executive committee. Fred A. Adams, of Spokane, executive secretary of the association, will be present.

Among the problems to be considered is whether or not the course of the highway in Montana will be changed, so that the route will go through Helena.

Jail on Bail

Kasimir Schneider, arrested yesterday by authorities on a murder charge after chemists at the state university reported they had found poison in the stomach of his late wife, was still in jail today. Friends were making an effort to get an early preliminary hearing and said they would try to get his release on bond.

Schneider has had few visitors, they being allowed to communicate with him only on order of the state's attorney. He has fasted practically no food while in jail and does not talk with other prisoners, sitting silently most of the time in his cell.

He has engaged an attorney, it is understood, and stoutly maintains his innocence. His brother visited him in jail, maintaining faith in him.

"The arrest of Kasimir Schneider for murder does not mean that he has been found guilty but does mean that he has been held for the purpose of trial so that the real truth may be known," said Coroner Stroke, who jointly signed the complaint to go. "In the meantime bail is being arranged in the sum of $10,000."

SCRAP IN MORTON CO.

Contest for State Senator and States Attorney There
Brings Out Workers

Some lively local contests through the counties in this section of the state have added zest to the last days of the campaign. One of the liveliest of these scraps is in the 36th legislative district, composed of Logan and McIntosh counties, where there are three candidates, running for state senator.

John H. Wishek, well known in state politics, Paul Kretschmer, and John Weber are the candidates. Weber is endorsed by the Nonpartisan league, and was recalled as senator in 1920.

Alex McDonald of Glencoe, an old-time figure in North Dakota politics in the independent candidate for the district composed of Kidder and Emmons counties. The four candidates for representatives are Elmer Anderson, Peter Bore, Lars Jansdahl and John Sleight. In Kidder county there is almost a straight fight between league and anti-league for county offices.

In Morton county there is a hot fight between Senator Fred Mees and former State Senator William Martin for the Republican nomination for that office. Mees was one of the leaders in the senate for the last four years. Morton county, like Burleigh, has a hot fight for sheriff, but only two are in it and they will continue in the race at election. Sheriff Jack Brady, present sheriff, is opposed by Jacob J. Strain, endorsed by the Nonpartisans. Two years ago the league favored Brady. Both Brady and Strain will be nominated but there has been a lot of scuffling for the edge in the number of votes cast.

There are three candidates for state's attorney. They are L. H. Connolly, present state's attorney, C. L. Kelsch, and C. L. Crum, the latter carrying Nonpartisan endorsement. There are three independent candidates and three Leaguers out for the legislature. They are Jacob J. Strain, Joseph Geck and C. A. Knutson. Independents, and J. F. Elmer, E. R. Heiberg and W. E. Shortridge. Nonpartisans and the league did not endorse candidates in Morton for coroner, county surveyor, clerk of district court or county auditor.

In McLean county there is pretty much of a straight-out fight between league and anti-league. Opponents of Sheriff Ole Stefford are making a particularly vigorous fight on him, and M. Tellefson, state's attorney, is opposed by the others. Charles Tauer of Underwood is making a hard fight against Stefford. The contest on the Garrison endorsed three candidates: L. Moe, Russ; Sam Newman, Ellsworth, and Chas. Tauer, Underwood, for sheriff. Candidates for representatives endorsed by the convention are Carl J. Onstad, Coleharbar; H. R. Freitag, Max, and John J. Hill, Sr., Roseglen. A particular fight is being made against Representative Vogel, Coleharbar, a strong league man in the legislature.

In Grant county Claude Lackey and L. L. Brown are independent candidates for the legislature. Considerable interest attaches to the race of D. C. Shipley of Stark county for the

(By the Associated Press)
Mexico City, June 27.—Manuel Barceña, Mexican lawyer who was kidnaped together with A. Bruce Bielaski, near Cuernavaca on Sunday, has been released and news is momentarily expected of Bielaski's freedom. Late advice from Cuernavaca said Mr. Bielaski was safe and that negotiations with the bandits were under way.

Mr. Bielaski, former chief of the American department of justice investigation bureau, and Senator Barceña were seized while motoring with their wives.

The negotiations for his release are being carried on by friends, and the 10,000 pesos ransom is being paid on the order of Richmond Levering and Company, New York, of which Mr. Bielaski is the head.

OTHERS HELD FOR RANSOM

Washington, June 27.—Forty American employees of the Cortes Oil Company near Tampico and destruction property valued at a quarter of a million dollars are being held by a rebel general until ransom of 15,000 pesos is paid, according to a message today from the American consul at Tampico to the state department.

The dispatch was dated yesterday and said that the "rebel general Gorazco" had seized the company's property and was holding it with 240 well armed men. Prompt instructions were sent by the state department to the embassy in Mexico City and to the consul at Tampico to urge the Mexican authorities to take immediate action for the protection of American lives and property.

The consul reported that Gorazco had demanded payment of the 15,000 pesos within 48 hours from yesterday morning, when his forces seized the property. The message said also that there were no Mexican federal troops in the vicinity.

Washington, June 27.—Meanwhile the department was still awaiting advice from Mexico as to action taken by the Mexican government to obtain the release of A. Bruce Bielaski, captured by bandits and held for ransom not far from Mexico City near Cuernavaca.

Ask Protection

The consul's message said that the company had asked for protection for its American employees and property. As the message was dated yesterday the time for payment of 15,000 pesos fixed by Gorazco probably was due to expire today.

The state department sent the following message to the embassy at Mexico City, similar instructions going to the consul at Tampico: "I urge the appropriate authorities to adopt vigorous measures to extend adequate protection to the life and property of American citizens reported held by the rebel General Gorazco and to punish the perpetrators of this outrage."

(By the Associated Press)
Grafton, W. Va., June 27.—The coal tippie at the Luella mine of the H. M. Crawford Coal Company was destroyed and the tippie at the Victor mine of the Radcliffe-Summersville Coal Co., at Arden, W. Va., was damaged early today by explosions of dynamite. Threats have been received by officials of companies, they said, when they continued to operate mines after strike was called.

Chicago, June 27.—Central and northwestern states face an almost certain coal famine next fall and winter, according to railroad officials and leading coal retailers.

Only a small tonnage of coal is moving on the railroads now and little of next winter's supply is in the mine. They pointed out, that immediately the coal strike is over, railway coal tonnage will jump 100,000 carloads a week, bringing traffic congestion and a certain shortage of cars.

Movement of coal to Chicago—the last two months was from 50,000 to 100,000 carloads less than during the corresponding period last year, the railroads reported. This is less than fifty per cent normal. Coupled with the warning of an impending car shortage was the announcement by retailers that prices for soft coal will be advanced July 1, and that all chances of cheaper coal this year have departed.

ONE KILLED, ONE WOUNDED

Bridgeport, Ohio, June 27.—One miner was killed and another wounded this morning when they were fired upon from the hills while enroute to work at the strip mine of the Catherine Coal Mining Company at Unifieldtown, near here, according to advices. The victims were in an automobile when the shooting began.

The shooting occurred near Lafayette, Belmont county. There were six miners in the automobile but four escaped without injury.

Three strip mines of the Catherine Company in this section have been operating since the strike was called April 1.

General Black indicated that no action on the reported danger would be taken.

SECRET CONFERENCES

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, June 27.—Railway union officials continued their conferences today on the threatened railroad strike.

With information by union leaders indicating the strike referendum of shopmen maintenance of ways employees and clerks throughout the United States, disclosed a strong sentiment in favor of the strike as a protest against wage reductions. J. C. Smock, assistant president of the maintenance way men predicted the walkout would be called July 15. Others said conferences with railroad officials would probably delay the call until August 1.

Word came out of the secret conferences that a meeting of union executives within the next few days might include the "Big Four" brotherhoods of trainmen who are unaffected by the wage cut decisions.

"The strike is sure to be called July 15," said Mr. Smock. "We are preparing for concerted action against the railroads and with that end in view have called for a meeting here within the next few days of the executives of the sixteen standard union organizations. The invitation includes the 'Big Four' train service brotherhoods, but we do not know whether they will attend."

B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor said an "important announcement" would be made Thursday as a result of the meetings.

New Disorder in Coal Strike
Also Is Reported
From Ohio

(By the Associated Press)
Washington, June 27.—Indications were given at the White House today that the government soon will be able to make an announcement in the coal strike situation and that the step contemplated was a move to bring the leaders of the union miners and representative operators together for a discussion of wage differences.

Realizing that the deadlock existing between mine operators and union mine workers will not voluntarily be abated by either party to the coal strike, the administration was prepared, responsible officials estimated, to offer a plan for negotiating the differences which, it was believed could not be rejected by either party to the strike.

The coal situation was understood to be one of the chief topics considered at today's cabinet meeting. Just what form the move by the government will take no official was prepared to state, though it was understood that some government officials, after conferring with J. Edgar Hoover, president of the United Mine Workers union, were of the opinion that no break whatever could be expected in the ranks of union labor that a move was necessary to bring operators into conference at once.

President Harding was said to feel that the "difficult and delicate" negotiations between individuals and the government necessary to bring about the meeting desired would not be aided by public discussion.

Many Delicate Questions. It was said today in the white house discussions that if the government found it possible to call a conference, representatives of the government would attend. Operators, faced in some instances with conspiracy indictments upon the anti-trust law because of participation in national wage fixing meetings, will not be asked to attend any conferences unless the administration shares responsibility with them by participating in the joint meeting, it was added.

Further, the administration, it was said, does not yet contemplate any intervention except by persuasion and conciliation. If, however, voluntary action of the kind sought in the industry does not result and public safety is threatened the government will make its intervention "more pointed." A question as to whether public safety in the view of the administration did require some settlement of the coal strike immediately was left unanswered.

SITUATION UNCHANGED

Washington, June 27.—With the bituminous coal strike situation unchanged after conferences of President Harding and Secretary of Labor Davis with John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, there had been no indication today of what further steps the administration might take in its effort to bring about a settlement of the controversy. Although Mr. Lewis who came here Sunday at the request of Secretary Davis, expected to remain another day in Washington, he was said to have no further appointments with officials today.

Announcement that the union had not altered its position, that a new wage scale for the bituminous industry must be negotiated through national or semi-national conference with operators was made by Mr. Lewis yesterday.

Business organizations affiliated with the chamber of commerce of the United States were called upon today by Julius H. Barnes, president of the chamber, to lend their co-operation in the effort to prevent a runaway coal market by setting up machinery for coordinating the distribution of coal among their local industrial and individual consumers. Each of the 1,400 chambers of commerce and trade associations was urged to appoint a fuel committee and make an immediate survey of the local coal association.

Cherokee, Okla., June 27.—An open challenge to the Industrial Workers of the world was laid down here last night when two hundred marchers, wearing the regalia of the Ku Klux Klan paraded the streets of this city, carrying signs defying the I. W. W. and warning them to stay away from Cherokee.

The parades came as an aftermath of the riot here last week between harvest hands, which was incited, it is believed, by I. W. W.'s. One man was killed in the riot and several others seriously wounded.

New York, June 26.—Whiskaway, Harry Payne Whitney's sensational colt, stands today the acknowledged king of three year olds on the American turf. The sturdy son of Whiskaway II, decisively defeated his most prominent rivals—Morvich, winner of the Kentucky derby and Piliory, victor in the rich Preakness and Belmont stakes—in the first running of the $50,000 special at Latonia, Kentucky Saturday. The winner was given his hardest test in the final drive by Thibodeux, a rank outsider who was only a half length behind at the finish.

COLLEGIATES HOLD ANNUAL REGATTA TODAY

(By the Associated Press)
Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 26.—Unruffled skies and water greeted oarsmen and spectators gathered here today for the annual regatta of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association.

Six months of arduous training at their banks, the hundred and twenty odd freshmen, junior varsity and varsity oarsmen from six different universities waited impatiently for the twilight hour when they would be sent away in quest of national rowing honors.

Interest centered chiefly in the outcome of the "varsity" three mile race. The veteran United States Naval Academy eight ruled favorites with Cornell, Washington and Syracuse second choices. Columbia was given an excellent chance by experts, if the varsity race should be rowed in rough waters.

Pitching To Decide, Says Evans

Waite Hoyt and Joe Bush More Effective—Washington and Boston Are Dangerous

By BILLY EVANS
Pitching will decide the American League championship. The winning of pennants usually hinges on pitching. The 1922 campaign in the American League does not promise to be an exception.

On paper New York certainly has the pitching. The Yankees' pitching staff stands out when compared with any other club in the league. It would be a difficult matter to select a better balanced staff than Mays, Bush, Jones, Hoyt and Shawkey. That quintet comprises the New York regulars.

On form New York appears to have a decided edge in pitching. However, the Yankees' staff so far has not proved as formidable as it appears. It was feared that the loss of Mays and Ruth would make the going rather hard for the Yankees during the first six weeks of the season.

Those fears were groundless. The players who understated for the Yankees delivered in a most convincing manner. The pitching staff assisted materially in carrying the Yankees into the lead.

With the return of Ruth, the pitcher's work of the Yankees during the past month can largely be traced to a falling off in the effectiveness of the twisters.

Of the regulars the work of Sam Jones has been disappointing. When he was traded to the Yankees, I predicted he would surely win 20 full games, and probably 25 would be closer to the correct figure.

In a majority of his last seven or eight starts Jones has been troubled with a bad lining, that usually resulted in his defeat. The constant recurrence of this bad lining has no doubt for the time robbed Sam of some of his confidence.

The failure of Jones to win consistently has hurt. However, he is a great pitcher and he should be able to win any day and fulfill my prophecy.

Waite Hoyt and Joe Bush have been the most effective. Dame Fortune has not smiled very kindly on either Mays or Shawkey of late. The breaks have been against them.

New York unquestionably has the punch and should get the pitching. If these things happen there is little to be another world series in New York.

St. Louis is a dangerous contender. The Browns are going to be troublesome all the way. Give Felt's team pitching and it is a tough club to beat. If Felt's two left-handers, Fritts and Danforth, can keep on winning look out for these Browns.

Cleveland appears to have faded. In dishing the chances of the Indians before the season opened I laid stress on the fact that the pitching must be satisfactory. It was last year and that. Spinkham must be able to play regularly. A bad knee was giving him trouble in the spring.

Speaker is the dynamo of the club. He has already been out of the game nearly a month and the season is only a third over. Mills and Bagby have failed to come through. As a result Cleveland is not proving very troublesome.

Washington and Detroit are dangerous. A bad start, due to lack of consistent pitching, has handicapped the Nationals. Detroit has showed a great offense. On the first eastern trip it played remarkable baseball. However, the club has lacked consistency, probably due to lack of experience in certain quarters.

The Tigers are very liable to be the dark horse of the American League race. It is hardly probable on present form that the world series will be featured by either Philadelphia, Boston or Chicago of the American League.

The cave man buried his head with as solemn religious rites as any in vogue today.

To The Voters
Burleigh County
Joseph L. Kelly, candidate for Sheriff, is well worthy the support of every man and woman in Burleigh county. He was born in this county in 1882 and has lived here ever since. He was left an orphan at 10 years of age and has always, from that time, made his own living. Mr. Kelly has always been foremost in doing all possible to help promote anything which he considered to be of benefit to the community. At the age of 18, he enlisted in the Spanish American war, serving 17 months, one year of which was spent in the Philippines. He was First Lieutenant of Company "A," North Dakota National Guards and was in command of the company for some time. During the late war Mr. Kelly was second in command of the Bismarck Home Guard and engaged actively in all the war activities of this organization. He was one of the organizers of the bunch that sheeked the grain around Bismarck during the war and was out on all trips made.
Mr. Kelly is an Honorable, upright gentleman, thoroughly liked and respected by all who know him and with the natural ability he has coupled with his experience, should make an ideal sheriff.

Herrin, Ill., June 27.—Removal to safety out of "blood" Williams county and the southern Illinois coal fields, of wounded men—men now in the hospital, is one of the problems coming in the wake of last Thursday's mine massacre.

Twelve wounded survivors of the 47 guards and workers who were sent on the "death march" out of the Lester strip mine, still are in danger, according to information reaching state and federal investigators.

Lying on their hospital cots, their wounds swathed in bandages, some of the wounded sensed that they still were in danger and expressed fear of further violence if they leave the hospital unprotected.

Herrin's law respecting citizenry believe, a body of state troops would solve the problem and dispel any further danger to the imported guards and workers from the wrath of striking miners.

We the committee of friends of Mrs. Irene Charlebois of Burleigh County believing that since women have not heretofore enjoyed the opportunity of taking any part in the administration of public affairs although always having borne their share of the burdens and more, do hereby urge the voters of the county to give their support and vote to Mrs. Charlebois for the Republican nomination for sheriff at the primaries June 28th, thereby giving a woman the opportunity of demonstrating at least that woman is either unfit or fit to take her place side by side with man in public service. the fate of 19 missing men who completed the gang of 66 in the bank cars Wednesday night. Allen P. Findlay of Chicago, time keeper, who is in the hospital with forty bullet wounds in his side and a bullet in his foot, is authority for the statement that there were 66 men in the cars when the attack was made.

Whether the missing 19 escaped or were killed in the cars and burned when attackers fired the train was still unknown today.

Angered because their town had been blamed for the atrocities, Herrin citizens say Johnson City, Zeigler and other mining towns should bear part of the responsibility because it is said many of the rioters came from other towns to join in the mob which stormed the Lester mine.

Sheriff Melvin Thaxton said he had been unable to get any information leading to the identity of any member of the mob.

GOING IT TOO HARD?

Overwork, worry, over-eating and lack of exercise and sleep are responsible for much kidney trouble. If your back aches and the kidneys seem weak, rest up and use Doan's Kidney Pills.

Chas. L. Pearce, farmer, 320 2nd St., Bismarck, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills on different occasions when suffering from disordered kidneys and they have always done me good. I have followed the stone mason's trade and it is mighty hard on the kidneys. For a time I was so lame I could hardly stoop down to get a bucket of water. I knew my kidneys required attention so got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Cowan's Drug Store and used them until my trouble disappeared entirely. Whenever I have needed Doan's since, they have always brought the same good results. I have frequently recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to all at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. THE BAKING POWDER QUESTION SOLVED

Most housewives proclaim that the baking powder question was solved for them the moment they used the first spoonful of Calumet. After that no doubt remained—no hoping—no searching for a perfect leavener—no wondering if bakings would "turn out all right."

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

has solved the question because in all these thirty years it has never failed to produce whole some and appetizing foods at an economical cost. It is as pure and sure as any baking powder ever made.

Calumet is more economical than other brands selling for less because its quality is the highest—no losses from spoiled bakings.

Use Calumet once—that's enough to prove to you that it's "best by test."

A pound can of Calumet contains full 15 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 15 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

MANY STUNTS FOR ROTARY CLUB EVENT

Address of Evening Given By Prof. Beeler of Minot Normal School

It was "Ladies' Night" at the Mc-Kendall hotel last evening for the Bismarck Rotary club. Wives and friends of the Rotarians were the guests of honor and a regular Rotary meeting and a most varied and interesting program were given.

The dining room was most attractively arranged for the event. Tables were set in a square. Decorations were carnations. Large baskets of flowers formed very attractive table favors.

Cases were set for more than 100 persons. At 8 p. m., the event went off with the usual Rotary "pep."

The address of the evening was made by President L. H. Beeler of the Minot Normal school. He spoke on the necessity of proper environment, the influence of the church and the schools upon the youth. He advocated twenty-four hour schools and instruction possible for all between the ages of six and seventy. He urged continuous education and the opportunity room. As a plea for clean living and right thinking, he placed special emphasis upon rotarism as a vital part of true hygiene and the "rotary" to the Darwinian theory.

Special guests of the evening were the officers of the Business and Professional Women's club. Miss Henrietta Beach in a most interesting talk told of the aims and objects of the organization and thanked the business men for the cooperation given in the members.

Howard J. Wischaupt, "the Billy Sunday of Business" told that his mission was in Bismarck this week to put more "rotary" into rotarism. He complimented the Rotarians and the "pep" shown last evening in the carrying out of the program.

W. G. Stevenson, Associated Press correspondent, gave a two minute talk upon the ideals of Rotary.

One of the stunts of the evening were several improvised quartets which gave great amusement. There was group singing which added greatly to the success of the evening.

J. L. Bell, chairman of the Rotary club, kept the program stepping lively every minute and added much by the way of rapid fire comments which kept up the continuity of the various features.

Burt Finney who lost his hat on the New Salem trip was presented with a baby brown Derby much in fashion in the Ghetto of New York. Mr. Finney gave a Webber & Fields demonstration as to how the hat should be worn.

Reports of the progress made in the New Salem tour were made and that trip was pronounced a great success.

Birthdays of C. L. Young and Roy Logan were fittingly commemorated. Judge Christensen read the biography of Mr. Young and G. N. Keniston did the honors for Mr. Logan. J. C. Taylor directed the program.

Training School Wins From Indians

In the baseball game between the State Training school and the Cannon Ball Indians at the fair grounds Saturday the former won from the latter by a score of 6 to 5 in the ninth inning. Nelson's View.

The Independent Voter's association statement says:

In the campaign which is now closing, the independent forces have not only had the opposition of the Non-partisans. Attacks have been made from two angles, led by men who have posed as Independents. One little group in the Republican camp thought they could get the anti-Townleyites to forget that honest administration of public affairs is of more consequence to North Dakota just now than the question of whether the mill at Grand Forks is to be completed and tried. They have, however, failed entirely in their effort. The other group which is operating against the success of the Nestos ticket is the so-called Anti-Fusion group among the Democrats. Those fellows forced the loyal Democrats to either surrender the party organization in their counties to the Townleyites or to not vote for Nestos. In most instances the Democrats have demonstrated that they love North Dakota more than they do their own ambitions and even their party and have decided to take a chance on letting the Nonpartisans get the organization in order to give the Nestos ticket every vote they can."

"The Nestos majority in the state is more than 25,000 right now but the whole Nestos majority will not show up in the primaries because some supporters will stay in the Democratic primaries in order to keep the Townleyites from getting control of the Democratic organization in their county."

"The voters of the state have indicated in various ways that though they may have other interests involved in the election they are not willing that these shall in any way prevent a full and free expression at this election from the voters on that one big question. Pet jobs and personal friendships will be side-tracked as matters of secondary importance."

GUESSING IS ELIMINATED IN BUSINESS

Howard J. Wischaupt Tells Hearers Here Something of New Science in Business

American business men are eliminating the guess work in business, Howard J. Wischaupt, who last night gave the first of a series of five lectures during "Better Business Week," told a large number of business men and women in the Elks theater. They are doing this by recording the human element in business and by studying it and by classifying it.

Years ago, Mr. Wischaupt said, business men in big organizations and small were introducing all known methods of efficiency and economy in the conduct of their business. They were putting on great sales campaigns. They found even a highly organized system developed in part upon guess work, upon an estimate of people's likes and dislikes and habits. Then a real study of the habits of people was made. Results were astounding and guess work was eliminated in many organizations.

People are 85 percent alike, Mr. Wischaupt said. A study of the personal characteristics of 10,000 people will apply to a vast number. A knowledge of persons and their characteristics is a necessity, he said.

Mr. Wischaupt gave illustrations of what this study has meant in

DOCTOR AT 82 FINDS MOTHERS PREFER HIS FORMULA TO NEW-FANGLED SALTS AND COAL TAR REMEDIES FOR BABIES

Judgment of 1892 vindicated by world's approval of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a simple vegetable compound for constipation—So safe thousands give it to babies in arms—Now has largest sale in the world.

WHEN a man is in the 83rd year of his age, as I am, there are certain things he has learned that only time can teach him. The basis of treating sickness has not changed since I left Medical College in 1876, nor since I placed on the market the laxative prescription I had used in my practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These were all the basis of my Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other mild laxative herbs with pepsin.

Recently new medicines have been brought out for constipation that contain calomel, which is mercury, salts of various kinds, minerals, and coal tar. These are all drastic purges, many of them dangerous, and the medical profession

My attention has been called to an article in yesterday's Tribune warning voters not to vote for me, that statement purporting to be issued by the Burleigh County Joint Campaign Committee, but it omitting signing the alias B. E. Jones, representing his daily bread.

It is not surprising that a man like Mr. Jones is not capable of having a broader view of this matter, he always being dominated by a master so his vision is dimmed to the extent that it is incomprehensible to him how any one can publicly exist without a superior guiding hand. In this case by order of his master he has resorted to the familiar trick of making it appear that the notice was given by the Burleigh County Joint Campaign Committee while it appears in truth and in fact, to have been given by B. E. Jones, for an undisclosed principal, although said principal is well known to all voters. To the voters, I hereby deny the accusations made in such statement or warning, and ask in behalf of my candidacy that you give this matter your careful study and attention. If elected I will not allow any political affiliations to interfere with me, as I have no affiliations. If the opposition to my election has no other reason for you not voting for me, I can hereby conscientiously solicit your vote.

the old standby, cannon-fodder. It may have occurred to you, that the war has been over nearly four years and that the process of boys growing to manhood has almost replaced the cannon-fodder lost by Germany during the war.
NUTSHELL
The new sugar tariff will cost American consumers $60,000,000 a year, says E. F. Atkins, American manufacturer of Cuban sugar.
His 11 words told more about the tariff question than the average economist can cram into a book.
On the other hand, the American producer may fall by the wayside unless a tariff protects him against cheap foreign competition.
Nearly all problems are "six of a kind, half a dozen of another." Justice is a matter of striking a sensible happy medium.
LEPROSY
Twelve hundred lepers are at large in our country. This is reported by the United States Public Health Service.
It is not many centuries since lepers were stoned out of town, their terrified assassins crying, "Unclean!" Miserable creatures, they were allowed to beg only at the gates of cities.
Now lepers are rounded up when discovered, isolated to prevent contagion, and given good food and lodging and medical attention at the community's expense.
We are more sensible than our ancestors, also more humane. Human nature does change.
FEET
A woman with feet only 6 1/2 inches long steps into the spotlight in Washington, D. C. She is Mrs. Carl W. Linker. She believes that she has smaller feet than any other American woman.
Many women will envy her.
Whether an extremely small foot on a woman is artistic, however, depends on her height. The standard of beauty, established by the ancient Greek sculptors, decreed that a foot to be artistic must be a sixth or a seventh the height of the body.
How close do you come to the specifications? Get out a yardstick. Here is one form of statistics that is not apt to cause headache.
CHANGE
Chiropractors at a convention discuss the probability that women in another few generations will have only four toes on each foot, instead of five.
Tight shoes are deforming and dwarfing the little toe. Instructors at swimming pools frequently comment on the number of women whose little toes have almost disappeared.
Back of this is the biological principle that nature makes additions to the body when needed, and takes away parts no longer necessary. Thus in Mammoth Cave are blind, not needing eyes. A chance of diet has made a long human organ shrivel into a small appendix.
BOW-WOWS
Someone is always predicting that the country is going to the bows. The latest is Chase S. Osborn, former governor of Michigan.
Osborn makes the interesting estimate that "the white race has seized three-fourths of the area of the earth and placed two-thirds of its population in tributary slavery."
Unless we mend our ways, he fears that the United States will decline and fall like Babylon, Greece and Rome.
That fall is bound to come eventually. No empire lasts forever, for everything on earth dies sooner or later—even mountains. But nothing dies until it has served its purpose. America has not yet served its purpose in destiny, nor will it for some thousands of years. Providence will provide whatever brakes and cleansing we need nationally.
GAMBLE
Rodger Dolan wants to know why nearly all Chinese are born gamblers. Possibly it is because they inherit the observation of an ancient people, that everything in life is pretty much of a gamble.
For instance, look at recent Chicago market quotations. Fat hogs are listed at $10.70 at hundredweight, or $2.65 more than a year ago. And No. 2 hard wheat brings $1.15 a bushel, or 46 cents less than a year ago.
Farming returns are uncertain, due to the element of chance—gambling. The farmer doesn't do the gambling, but he furnishes most of the chips.

or Bucharest, New York or Washington. It is wise to disregard geographic lines in building to the memory of one whose service was to the world. It is wise not to define too closely the kind of public service which future administrations of the foundation may single out for the receipt of honors so certain to stimulate contributions to the advancement of civilization—New York World.
WHAT CAN BE DONE WITH A POET
Addressing a group of alumni of the University of Michigan in Chicago, Friday, President Marion Leroy Burton commented enthusiastically on the success of the experiment of introducing a poet into the life of the university.
Last fall Robert Frost, a New England rhymester of renown, was engaged to live a year in Ann Arbor at the rather unpoetic salary of $5,000. He has had no official duties in connection with any of the college faculties, has held no classes and has been perfectly free to spend his time as he saw fit. Yet his activities and his influence have been such that never before has the interest, not in poetry alone but in all literature, been so great among Michigan students as it is now. That interest has been manifested in the inauguration by the students of a lecture course by outside poets, and in numerous other ways.
Decidedly here is a poet who has made good in college life—how good may be judged from President Burton's assertion that Mr. Frost is quite as popular on the campus at Ann Arbor as is that eminent exponent of the athletic arts, Mr. Yost.—Chicago News.
GWENDOLYN THOMAS' FORTUNE
Of course gambling is forbidden in England, but everybody has a bet on the derby and those who do not lay a wager with the bookmakers play the sweepstakes. Of these the Calcutta Sweep is the largest. The tickets of this lottery are bought by Englishmen all over the world, for the son of the empire who may be in India or Australia dreams of a sudden fortune and a triumphal return home. This year the hopes of the exiles were vain. The Calcutta went to Miss Gwendolyn Thomas, a clerk in an insurance office in Liverpool, which is about the most unromantic spot in the empire. However, Gwendolyn is a romantic name and so is the name of the derby winner, Captain Cattle.
Although Miss Thomas sold half her ticket before the race her winnings amount to $289,000. Even when the income tax collectors finish their job she will have about $175,000 left. To step from the small wages of a Liverpool insurance clerk into an income of perhaps $9,000 a year is like walking into a wonderful dream, and particularly so for a woman.
A man figures a new fortune in terms of money, but a woman reckons in terms of things—houses, furniture, clothes and carriages. A man in England who has $9,000 a year, or even what is left of it after the taxes are extracted, can get more for it than the same income would buy here.—New York Herald.

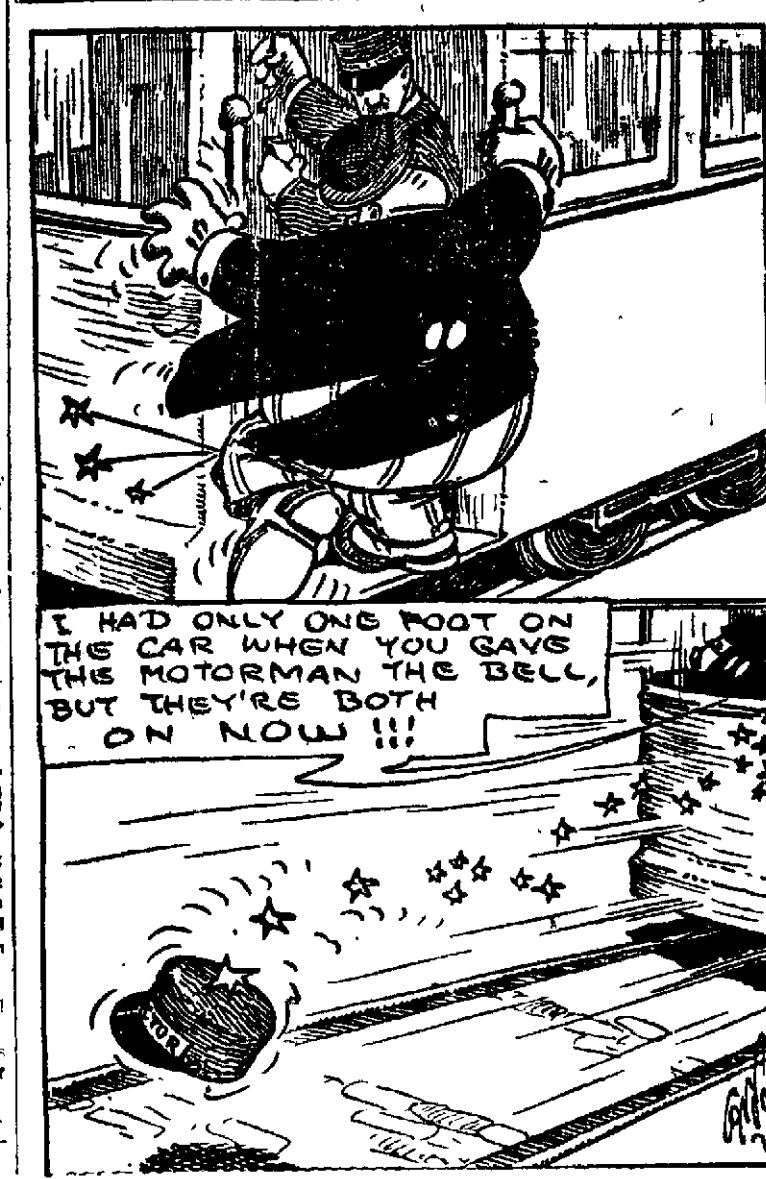

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS
By Olive Barton Roberts

Buskins, the funny little fairy-man in the apple tree, looked at poor Mr. Peersabout, the Moon-Man, in surprise. Mr. Peersabout had fallen down from the Moon, you know, and landed in the top boughs.
When Buskins found out who the Moon-Man was he offered to take him up to the sky in his little elevator.
"Oh, thank you," said Mr. Peersabout gratefully, and he lost no time in climbing through the apple-branches to the funny little house or elevator, or whatever it was.
Buskins pulled a handle and the little elevator began to move, slowly at first, then faster and faster, up through the sky.
They passed all sorts of old places, but Buskins was so interested in the Moon-Man's story and the Moon-Man was so busy talking, that neither of them saw a thing.
Had they looked very hard they would have seen Nancy and Nick and the Weatherman riding a big green umbrella. But they never saw a sign of them.
And what do you think they did? They went right past the Moon-right past it on up—past stars and planets and the Milky Way and Mars and Venus and everything.
All at once Mr. Peersabout looked around.
"Where are we?" he exclaimed.
Buskins stopped the elevator.
"Blest if I know," he said. "I guess we've gone too far. We'll have to go back. Here's Bluster-Gust Land where the Weatherman lives."
But Mr. Peersabout's sharp eyes had seen something. He'd noticed the Weatherman's house with its chimney and tied to the chimney by a long rope was a star.
"Look," he cried, catching Buskin's arm and pointing. "There's the star that Comet-Lega rides. Do you s'pose he's here? He's the one that pushed me off the moon. Let's stop!"

GENERAL CUSTER NOT A SUICIDE, SAYS GEN. GODFREY OF MASSACRE

School children of Forsythe, Montana, read in their histories the erroneous statement that General Custer committed suicide, according to General E. S. Godfrey, of Crookston, New Jersey, who served in General Custer's regiment and is known as its historian.
"Learning that the history used in the schools of Rosebud county, Montana, state that General Custer committed suicide, General Godfrey wrote to Mrs. A. S. Hotchkiss, of Grandenburg, Mont., as follows:
"It was really a great shock to know that the school history of Montana should contain an unimpeached and outrageous statement that General Custer committed suicide. I was called to the Custer hill (where the monument stands) while we were burying the dead, by the commanding officer, Major Reno, to help identify the dead at that point. I saw the naked body of General Custer, then laid out. He had two wounds either of which would have been fatal, one in the left temple and the other in the left breast at or near the heart. I examined carefully for powder marks and there were none. There were no mutilations; he was not scalped. On the tenth anniversary, June 25, 1886, I was on the battlefield with Chief Gall who gave me a graphic story of the battle, he using signs and a few words of English.
"On our return to the Agency, Standing Rock, I had him tell me the story through interpreters and the aid of a map. I have every reason to believe that he told the truth, he talked straight, as the Indians would put it. I put the question to him: 'Why was not Custer scalped?'
"He that as it may, we who followed the trails and battled with the hostiles for years considered it as a sine quo non that the last shot would be reserved for self-infliction rather than fall into the hands of the hostiles alive for torture and the stake."
About 50 out of every 100 natives examined in two villages near Lake Maracalibo, Venezuela, showed infection from malaria.
In Morocco no native woman who is truly religious is seen on the streets at any time except in cases of extreme necessity.

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

STUDYING YOUR HABITS
Howard J. Wischaupt gave hearers here in the first of his "Better Business Week" talks an insight into the study of the habits of people which is now being made by big and small business organizations for the purpose of eliminating guessing in business. Amazing tales were told of how this comparatively new science in business has brought results in dollars and cents. One who doubts the story may be convinced by a concrete illustration, or by turning one's thoughts to one's own daily life.
Mr. Wischaupt is known as "the pep man" of business. He is making money and dealing with big men and big organizations in his line of work. What was considered theory a few years ago is now actual practice. Business men and salespeople of all business will profit by hearing such talks as Mr. Wischaupt gave last night.
PRICE OF FAME
How would you like to have been Napoleon? Would you exchange places with him, trade your life for his career and fame?
Don't be too sure about it. Before deciding, better investigate the real Napoleon—his health and temperament.
Napoleon was a freak. His nature was sluggish, his pulse rarely higher than 50 a minute, according to Corvisart, his personal physician.
The reaction from this sluggishness came explosively in epileptic fits, with the customary convulsions and foaming at the mouth that accompany this dread disease.
Napoleon never loved. He was incapable of it. Often he was attracted to a woman, in a sudden and volcanic outburst of passion—which subsided instantly if not responded to.
Violent abdominal pains made it impossible for Napoleon to sleep more than a few hours at a time. In captivity at St. Helena, he wound up with pronounced physical and mental decay.
Dr. Louis H. Berman tells these facts about Napoleon, in his book, "The Glands Regulating Personality."
Berman notes that "the rise and fall of Napoleon followed the rise and fall of his pituitary gland." This gland is in a thimble-sized cavity of the skull.
Berman takes another great man, Charles Darwin, the evolutionist. Darwin was a neuroathetic genius. That is, his glands were unbalanced—like an orchestra out of tune.
In youth, Darwin was athletic and happy. Then his glands began acting abnormally. He became a hyperthyroid, with violent pains about the heart, also palpitation. Insomnia haunted him.
Darwin became so easily exhausted that he could only sleep in the morning, and then only a few hours.
Painfully, he did his work, writing 23 volumes and 51 scientific papers, by alternating small doses of work with large doses of rest.
Darwin was one of the most miserable beings, mentally and physically, that ever lived. That was the price of his fame.
The more science learns about the mysterious endocrine glands of the human body, the more it believes that genius is the result of chemical abnormalities of the glands.
Among famous geniuses, we find these epileptics: Julius Caesar, Mohammed, Lord Byron, Dostoyevsky and Flaubert.
Fame is a fine monument.
But, like everything else, it has its price.
If real happiness is the most desirable goal, lucky is the individual who is normal.

IMPROBABLE
Frequently you read something that sounds improbable, and wonder if it is true.
A case in point is the party reported to have swallowed his false teeth. This particular incident is confirmed from Chicago, where James Stroud, Des Moines electrician, is found in a yard. He had swallowed his false teeth and choked to death.
Newspapers print many true improbabilities. If you were behind the scenes with the reporters, you would be amazed at the true but incredible events that never reach print.
BIRTHS
France is alarmed at her decline of births so far in 1922. Mortality experts compare the birth trend with deaths, and predict that in another generation the French population will be diminishing 200,000 a year.
When France and Germany went to war in 1870, they had about equal populations—40,000,000 apiece. In 1914 France had the same but Germany had moved up to 70,000,000. Modern war has wonderful weapons, but none of them is equal to

THE WOODROW WILSON AWARDS
This is a wise decision at which the National Committee of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation has arrived: that for the prizes be arranged as a memorial of Mr. Wilson, people of all nations are eligible; and that no limits are set as to the number or character of the prizes or the kind of public service for which they may be given.
Statesmen are paying anxious attention to the economic ills following the cruel destruction of war. They must it is the condition of survival for civilization that these problems shall be faced until they are solved. But there is a more alone a population nearly equaling that of the United States which can never forget the first fine rupture of realization of political freedom gained, with Woodrow Wilson as the foremost champion of self-determination, nor are neutral nations backward in recognizing how much they owe to his heroic fight against ancient tyrannies built on subject races. Economic independence has taken great steps forward.
The public services which the Woodrow Wilson foundation will wish to recognize and reward may as likely be rendered from Prague

TODAY'S WORD
Today's word is SUBSIDY.
It's pronounced—sub-si-dy, with accent on the first syllable.
It meant originally, in England, a parliamentary grant to the crown of a sum raised by extraordinary taxation. Later, a sum granted by one state to another, as to a friendly power to aid the latter in war; a governmental grant of funds or property to a private person or corporation to assist in establishing or supporting an enterprise deemed advantageous to the public, a subvention; any gift by way of financial aid.
It comes from—Latin "subsidi-um," the troops stationed in reserve in the third line of battle; reserve; support, help.
It's used like this—"In ordinary usage," says Webster, "subsidy often carries a derogatory implication."

Greenest thing in any park is a young couple.

This is the hottest summer we have had since last year.

RAINFALL FAR AHEAD OF LAST YEAR IN STARK

Dickinson, N. D., June 28.—With a week yet to go the precipitation in the Dickinson vicinity for June has reached the highest point in the past eight years and has been exceeded but twice in the 30 years that observations have been regularly made and recorded here on the Slope. The total rainfall for the month up until Thursday, was 6.49. The precipitation for the week was .34 of an inch.
Since April 1 the total rainfall recorded by the government gauge at the Dickinson Experimental station, has been a trifle about 9.60 inches. When compared with the rainfall in other parts of the Slope for that period it is about a half inch more than that recorded at Beach and about an inch less than that recorded for Nettinger county and other points on the South Slope, where the rainfall totaled more than ten inches.
Had Hatfield, the rainmaker, accepted the sporting offer made him early in the season by the commissioners of Slope county, it is claimed that he would have carried away more than $55,000 in commissions. Of course if he signed the contract and moved his rainmaking machinery to this section of the state he would probably have taken credit for all the rain.
GOOD HELP IN SUMMER.
Indigestion causes worry, nervousness, sick headaches, biliousness, coated tongue, bad breath, bloating, gas, constipation and constant distress. Henry C. Thorne, 1002 Harrison Ave., Boston, Mass., writes: "Since taking Foley Cathartic Tablets I feel fine." They cleanse the bowels, sweeten the stomach and invigorate the liver. Cause no pain, no nausea. Not habit forming—just a good, wholesome physic.

DON'T VOTE FOR O. R. VOLD FOR THE LEGISLATURE, UNLESS YOU ARE FOR A NON-PARTISAN.

It has come to our attention that Mr. Vold is giving the impression to voters in Bismarck, that he is not a Non-partisan. Mr. Vold has been endorsed for the Legislature by the Non-Partisan Committee, according to statement in the Farmer Labor State Record.
The Anti-Townley Convention has endorsed, Messrs. Anderson, Heaton and Harrington, for the Legislature.
Your vote for these three men is asked.

HERBERT A. HARD
Democratic Candidate for Secretary of State

Resident of North Dakota 12 years. Flood Control Engineer past 6 years. I believe nomination carries an obligation to STAY on the ticket through November election, and the undeniable fact that certain Jamestown candidates agreed to withdraw, makes them unworthy of your ballot. I further believe that Democrats who are regular, progressive and constructive, can assist the national organization to a clean-cut victory in the next general election.

North Dakota has vast natural resources which it has as yet made little effort to develop. I believe the state should at once proceed along sound business lines to develop its lignite, clays and water power; to aggressively carry out its flood control projects on the Missouri, Red, Missouri, Sheyenne, and James rivers and its irrigation projects in the Missouri and Mouse valleys; encourage the Great Lakes waterways project.

Mr. Hard has in the past 6 years developed, shaped and to an extent financed extensive plans for prevention of disastrous floods in the Red Valley. He has directed extensive surveys and prepared maps, designs and cost estimates on dams, reservoirs and channel improvement for same. These are ready for use when the next flood has driven the three affected states to action.—Pol. Adv.

MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS

Read This Letter from Mrs. W. S. Hughes

Greenville, Del.—"I was under the impression that my eldest daughter had some real trouble as ever since the first time her sickness appeared she had to go to bed and even had to quit school once for a week. I was told by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound myself so I gave it to her and she has received great benefit from it. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish, as I cannot say too much about what your medicine has done for me and for my daughter."—Mrs. Wm. S. HUGHES, Greenville, Delaware.

Mother and oftentimes grandmothers have taken and have learned the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So they recommend the medicine to others.
The best test of any medicine is what it has done for others. For nearly fifty years we have published letters from mothers, daughters, and women, young and old, recommending the Vegetable Compound. They know what it did for them and are glad to tell others. In your own neighborhood are women who know of its great value.
Mothers—daughters, why not try it?

WITH 'HOMER'

Helps the Yankees To Triumph Over Boston—Shawkey Also Makes Homer
BRAVES GO TO BOTTOM

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, June 27.—Babe Ruth helped the New York Yankees to a fourth straight victory over Boston. Bob Shawkey clinched the victory with a homer in the ninth.

Coveleskie held St. Louis in check for several minutes hit Pruck for 12 hits and won 6 to 0, thus enabling the Yanks to gain a full game on the league-leading Browns. Two and a half games separated the rivals today.

Jimmy Ring twirled Philadelphia to fifth straight victory over Boston and the Yankees clinched out of last place while the Braves tumbled to the bottom.

Cincinnati hit three St. Louis pitchers hard while Keck was steady in the pinches, and continued its winning streak by winning 7 to 4. George Burns featured at bat with four hits.

The Chicago Cubs got to Johnny Morrison in the latter stages of the game for several timely blows and won from Pittsburgh six to four. Babe Ruth celebrated his return to the game yesterday after his five days suspension because of a run-in with Umpire Dineen, by crashing out a home run with two men on the paths. It was his eighth homer of the season. Bob Shawkey, the Yankee pitcher also pitched a home run.

Fitcher Miller of the Boston Braves could not stand the bombardment of the Philadelphia batsmen yesterday and was driven to the showers before he was able to get a man out in the third inning.

LEONARD WAS DISQUALIFIED

Fouls Britton After Being Outpointed For 12 Rounds

New York, June 27.—Benny Leonard and the second lightweight champion in 27 years to attempt the title of the welterweight title, failed last night when after being outpointed for 12 rounds he fouled Jack Britton, the 27 year old champion and was disqualified.

Two minutes and forty seconds of the thirteenth round had passed when Leonard struck Britton while the latter was on one knee, taking a knee. Britton had gone to his knee, wining as if in pain and motioned to his seconds to claim a foul. At this juncture Leonard walked around Referee Patsy Haley and struck Britton in the body with a left.

Kid Lavigne, one of the great light weights of years gone by, tried to take the welterweight championship, but was knocked out by mysterious Billy Smith, the champion.

Fight Was Interesting.
Britton had had all the better of the contest last night and it was evident that he would have won the judge's decision had the contest gone the limit of 15 rounds. The fighting however, was interesting at all times, with both champions in a display of their best known tactics.

Britton worked short arm left swings and hooks and right swings to the head effectively and on the defense he was the master as always. Leonard was all to ruin and nothing to lose—his own title was not at stake—took a great deal of punishment in an effort to get inside the Britton defense to land a flooring punch. He sent Britton reeling at times with straight rights to the jaw and lefts to face and body, but the welter king was always a willing mixer, sending as good as he received and laughing off the blows that hurt.

Johnson-Couch
Are Playing Off
Golf Tie Today

(By the Associated Press)
Kansas City, Mo., June 27.—Harrison R. Johnson of St. Paul and Ira L. Couch of Chicago, started today to play off the tie they scored yesterday with 72 each in the first qualifying round of the Western Golf Association tournament in progress here. With them nearly two hundred other players, among them many of the leading golfers of the country, started their second attempts to be among the 32 who will be in the first play of the championship flight tomorrow.

"Chuck" Evans, present holder of the Western title yesterday brought home a score of 76, to qualify and to let his opponent take out the kinks in his game until he is going in his old championship style.

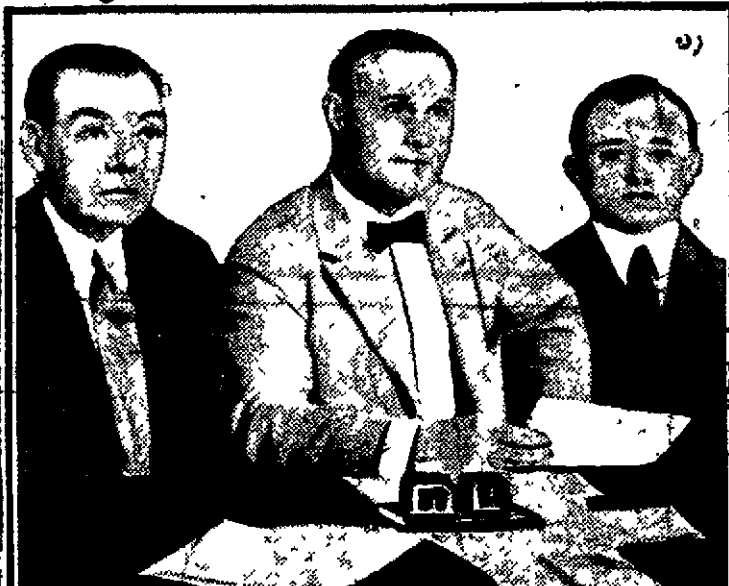

Thirty-three players shot the course under 80 yesterday. Par is 73.

Those who watched the first players tee off this morning predicted a card of at most no higher than 138 will be needed to qualify for the championship flight.

ST. LOUIS
FANS TALK
PENNANT

More Than 75,000 Persons Saw Recent Yankees-Browns Series

(By the Associated Press)
St. Louis, Mo., June 27.—St. Louis baseball fans are in a frenzy of pennant excitement these days.

At present they are pinning their hopes on Lee Fohl's American League Browns. With Kenneth Williams, the leading home-run slugger of the majors, together with George Sisler, leading hitter and base stealer; leading pitcher, Urban, and a few other satellites of the diamond, the outlook is considered very favorable.

Fohl's latest and one of his most valuable assets, on whom the fans here depend for the bunting, is Hubert "Shucks" Pruett, recently a college baseball pitcher. Pruett won a home when he fanned "Babe" Ruth, in his third trip to the plate in the recent series with the Yankees. Eliot Vangilder, who first broke into professional baseball with the Bloomington club of the Three-Eye league, is rounding into form under Fohl's eye.

Pruett, like Vangilder is inclined to be a bit wild, and to pitch himself into a hole, but brazen enough to slip the pill through the groove with the bags loaded.

Shine Ball Fame.
Dixie Davis, Dave Danforth of the shine ball fame, Ray Kolp, Billy Bayne and Wright are excellent supporters to the pitching staff.

In the outfield, Kenneth Williams, whose speed has enabled him to add extra bases to ordinary singles and doubles, as well as a few stolen bags, is supported by Jacobson, Tobin, and Shorten.

Jacobson and Collins in several instances proved effective hitters in the pinches.

The recent Yankees and Browns series broke all records for attendance at the local park, more than 75,000 persons witnessing the four games. The attendance record for a single game was also shattered, due to the attraction of the two Goliaths of Swat, Ruth and Williams.

The record of 29,000 was established during the Browns and Cardinals pre-season exhibition but more than 31,000 saw the Sunday game of June 11 with the Yankees.

Pavilion, box and reserved seats for this series were sold out weeks in advance. The lineup at the bleacher entrance resembled the world's series line.

The fans are continuing to howl for the Fohlmen to grab a flag, and if they do a new ball park will probably be needed here.

Where Are The

Bill Bailey Is By His Lonesome

BY BILLY EVANS.
What is becoming of the southpaw pitchers?

The other day, while discussing pitching in the majors with a couple of the National League umpires, I remarked:

"What good looking left-handed pitchers broke into your league this year?"

"None," replied one of the arbiters.

"Bill Bailey is the best looking lefthander that has broken into the league in a couple of years," replied the other.

That struck me as rather interesting. Since Bill Bailey had his chance in the American League for three or four seasons, then dropped back into the minors.

For about ten years he was shut out around in the bushes only to come back last season with the St.

TWO INJURED
IN RUNAWAY

Mrs. Alsbury in Hospital
Painfully Hurt

Mrs. John Alsbury was seriously hurt and Mrs. John Robidoux was painfully injured in a runaway last night near the Wachter school. The ladies had been attending a political meeting there. Returning, the horse they were driving became frightened when a motorist started up his engine. The horse in its dash caused the buggy to upset, throwing Mrs. Alsbury and Mrs. Robidoux to the ground with great force. Both were taken to the hospital.

It was said today that Mrs. Robidoux had suffered only a cut over the eye and injury to her arm, and she left the hospital. Mrs. Alsbury, it was feared, had suffered a fractured shoulder-blade. She still was in the hospital and an X-ray examination was to be made. Because of her advanced age—about 70—it was feared the shock might also be serious.

Chautauque, N. Y., June 27.—Mrs. Thomas C. Winters of Minneapolis, Minnesota, was nominated for re-election as president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs at the biennial convention in session here today. The election will take place Thursday.

Two resolutions concerning motion pictures were considered today by the resolutions committee. One resolution endorsed the "better film organizations;" the other recommended cooperation with all organizations interested in improving motion pictures.

Under the rules discussion the resolutions went over until tomorrow when Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors is expected to speak before the convention.

Today's program called for conferences on industrial and business relations, institutional relations, Indian welfare and social service.

Expressed Surprise at Excellent Grounds Which Have Not Been Used

M. E. Cantillon, president of the Dakota League, arrived yesterday in Bismarck and Mandan looking over the baseball situation here. He is desirous of bringing a few of the league games to Bismarck and Mandan and is contemplating the transportation of one of the teams here. He expressed surprise at the excellent baseball park, and regrets that he did not know at the opening of the season conditions here. It is hoped that the fans of Bismarck and Mandan will have an opportunity to see at least one series of games.

While rain and other causes seriously cut the attendance of Sunday's game between Wilton and Bismarck, the baseball players, and management are not in the least discouraged, and have arranged a game for Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. with the fast team from Tuttle. Practice will be held at the baseball park tonight and Friday night, and all players in the city are requested to attend.

Why Lakes Are
Vanishing From Certain Regions

Fargo, N. D., June 27.—Agricultural development and not a difference of rainfall are largely responsible for the decrease in the amount of water in the hundreds of small lakes that are vanishing from certain regions in North Dakota according to Herbert A. Hard, state drainage commissioner. Year by year they are lower in their banks and many of them have disappeared altogether. The larger ones will not evaporate wholly, he adds, the main cause that is taking away the water is also disappearing. This cause is merely an increase in cultivation, he says. Water that formerly ran off the soil as soon as it fell is now absorbed by the thirsty roots of the cultivated grains and grasses. As cultivation increases this absorption will increase but when all the land is under cultivation the larger lakes will probably exist, he says, though reduced in extent.

Early settlers in the Devils Lake region can remember the days when water still connected Devils Lake and Stump Lake. Mr. Hard has found comparatively recent shore lines or beaches around the margin of Stump Lake, forty feet above the present level of that body of water. This shows, he says, that less than 100 years ago the water in the lake stood that much higher.

Geological survey maps, made thirty-five years ago, he added, outline many small lakes which have completely disappeared, to the confusion of the engineer, who expects to find them where they are mapped. Lake Tawaukon, Sargent county is in the process of disappearing now. It has been known to be absolutely dry in recent years but during a period of wet weather it fills up again, temporarily.

The streams of the state are affected in the same manner as the lakes but not to so great a degree. Old settlers recall the navigation which formerly existed on the Red River of the North and old regulations still provide for swinging or bascule bridges at Fargo though the boats that made this necessary have disappeared.
